College of Registered Nurses & Midwives of PEI

CRNMPEI transitioned to the new database, Alinity, this past summer. Staff continue to go through each registrant's profile to ensure the information is accurate. If you notice an inaccuracy on your profile, please contact CRNMPEI.

It is strongly recommended that you use your personal email address as your login and contact email and not your work email. This ensures that you receive all CRNMPEI communication even if you are off work or change workplaces. Email is CRNMPEI's primary communication tool so it is very important that everyone receives and reads all emails sent.

Code of Ethical Conduct

There is a new Code of Ethical Conduct being used by CRNMPEI. It can be found on our website or by clicking here.

What is a College?

A regulatory college acts on behalf of the public to ensure nurses and midwives provide safe professional care. This is different than an association that acts on behalf of nursing or midwifery to advance the profession or a union that acts on behalf of nurses or midwives to secure salary, benefits and working conditions.
